

Daniel J. Smith

4400 University Drive, Fairfax, VA 22030
Email: smith.dan.j@gmail.com ▪ Website: www.danieljosephsmith.com

---

Econ 385-A01 2010: International Economic Policy (Fall Semester, George Mason University)

Summary:

Overall Rating of the teaching:	Mean 4.83	Median: 5	Standard Deviation: .54
Department Average:	Mean: 4.41	Median: 5	Standard Deviation: .87

Overall Rating of the Course:	Mean: 4.65	Median: 5	Standard Deviation: .61
Department Average:	Mean: 4.29	Median: 5	Standard Deviation: .87

Out of 18 students on a scale of 1 to 5, 1 being "poor," 5 being "excellent"

Comments:

All comments in response to evaluation questions:

1. What aspects of the course and the way it was taught helped you to learn?
2. What modifications do you suggest for the next time the course is taught?

“1. Thank you for teaching this course. I feel like I understand things more clearly now. 2. No change”

“This course was incredible. Professor Smith has a wealth of knowledge that I am so privileged to have benefited from. After working a ten hour day I look forward to his lectures not only because I am interested in the material but because I know HE is. His enthusiasm only encourages that of the students. I had a blast in this class and learned more, without comparison, than I ever have in any other class. Thank you.”

“The paper assignment was too vague and unorganized – It was hard to get started with no structure”

“Nothing to change. I learned a lot of new things that I would not have realized not only thru course concepts but the readings and examples provided by instructor. This class has completely improved my views of real life.”